PSI CHAPTER OF DELTA KAPPA EPSILON AT THE UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA ♦ FALL 2007

Campaign Tops $3.4 Million

Leadership Key to Chapter's Dominant Position on Campus

Renovations to the house are progressing. Soon our house will be completed and the envy of all at UA!

Coach William "Bear" Bryant is often quoted as saying, "I ain't never been nothing but a winner." I think of Psi DKE the same way. Part of what made Bryant great was his ability to change. Change is never easy, but it often yields extraordinary benefits.

When the University first envisioned the transformation of Bryant-Denny Stadium into the most impressive facility of its kind in the nation, the outlook for Psi Chapter of DKE looked bleak. The natural response to change is resistance, and we all experienced stress and consternation upon hearing the announcement that our beloved Mansion on the Hill would have to go.

Recently, Zeb had a chance visit with Gene Stallings and asked his definition of leadership. Coach Stallings replied, "A leader is someone who gets others to do something they normally would not do for the greater benefit of the entire organization."

In light of what has transpired these past two years, we would like to take this opportunity to recognize the efforts of DKE leadership, which resulted in the greatest change in Psi Chapter's history since its inception as the first Greek organization on the University of Alabama campus.

Of course, the history of leadership from Psi Chapter is legendary. Thank goodness our House Corporation recognized the inevitable and had the vision to embrace change as an opportunity to improve our position on campus. They definitely earned the 2007 Outstanding Alumni Association award at our National Convention in August!

To sum it up, they negotiated the absolute best possible location on campus, demanded and received fair compensation for the former

Chapter House, planned every detail of a new home to serve the next 150 years of DKE, and hosted the greatest farewell party ever experienced on campus.

Now the Chapter is conducting the most successful fundraising effort for a Greek organization at the University of Alabama. It's also among the top five fraternity campaigns nationally, raising more than $3.4 million so far. Everyone involved in this effort can take pride in the fact that the future of Psi Chapter is positioned well physically and financially.

Talk about leading others to do things they would not normally do for the greater good of the organization!

In light of Coach Stallings' definition of leadership, it is apparent that the positive changes implemented at the University of Alabama over the past several years, especially at Psi Chapter of DKE, indicate we are blessed with tremendous leadership throughout our campus. The bond between Psi Chapter of DKE, the University, Bama football, and campus leadership has never been stronger. Indeed, it is a good time to be a DKE at the University of Alabama!

We are as proud today of our DKE heritage as we have ever been. We want to pass along our heartfelt thanks to all the leaders who have contributed in big ways to the success we enjoy today and will enjoy well into the future. If you have not yet made your gift to the Building for the Next 150 Years Campaign, please do so today.

In the bonds,

Psi Chapter Wins National Awards

The Chapter would first of all like to thank our alumni for your generous contributions, hard work, and ongoing support of the construction of our new Mansion on the Hill. As sad as members are to see the old Mansion fall, the excitement the Chapter has for the new house is indescribable.

The Chapter recently won DKE International Fraternity's top award this year—the 2007 Lion Trophy. The competition is based on our application in four categories. Psi placed first overall in the competition, winning the Alumni Relations and Community Service categories, and taking second in the Chapter Improvement and Scholarship categories.

Everyone should take pride in the fact that the Chapter also won the award for 2007 Outstanding Alumni Association. Additionally, the Chapter would like to extend its appreciation and urge all brothers to congratulate John R. McNeil '75 for winning the William M. Henderson Alumni Award 2007 for his outstanding service to Psi Chapter.

The house itself is a work of art, and no words or any picture can show how truly impressive it is. The entire facility was built to enhance the Chapter's success for the next 150 years, and there are no doubts it will provide this service.

There is much excitement about this year's pledge class. Thirty-five new members will be initiated this fall, and the Chapter is confident they will contribute to the success of Psi Chapter.

It is our desire to see the Chapter's legacy of success carried on for many years to come, building on 150 years of brotherhood. All of you are invited to visit our new Mansion on the Hill this fall. Roll Tide!

At the 2007 Lion Trophy and Awards Banquet August 11, 2007, in Ann Arbor, Michigan, the Chapter received the Lion Trophy. Alex Fleming '08 holds the Lion Trophy presented to him by DKE International Executive Director David Easlick, Omicron '69. John McNeil '79 (left) received the Henderson Cup.

Thank You Loyal Brothers for Committing $3,400,660

We are deeply grateful to the following brothers for their commitments to Building for the Next 150 Years Campaign. To date, 386 loyal alumni have contributed $3,400,660 in pledges and contributions. When construction is complete the Psi Chapter will have a state-of-the-art facility to call home. Commitments are still needed from all of our alumni to achieve our goal of $4 million.

Brothers in Life and DKE

Contributing to the Legacy

Angus Cooper II '64 and David Cooper '67 are familiar with developing and continuing a family legacy. The brothers are the third generation in the family business Cooper/T. Smith, one of America's oldest and largest stevedoring and maritime-related firms.

The company was established in 1905, and in their tenure the brothers have grown Cooper/T. Smith to a competitive world-wide business with operations on all three U.S. coasts and foreign operations in Central America and South America. They are preparing Cooper/T. Smith for the fourth generation, their own sons.

The brothers have committed themselves to the DKE legacy of Psi Chapter. Both men joined DKE because of the Fraternity's strong alumni presence in their hometown of Mobile, Alabama. These alumni were respected community members and leaders.

Angus and David both earned degrees in business administration. The Fraternity was a developmental element of their college and professional endeavors. David says the experience taught him how to handle difficult situations and was beneficial because "you meet people from all over with different ideas and opinions and forge lifelong friendships."

The men have fond memories of their time as collegians. Angus remembers "Coach Bryant and the success that he had, along with the players and the entire student body, in writing history in college football." He names Coach Bryant's address to the student body at Foster Auditorium while on the way to a football national championship as a highlight of his tenure at the university. He also recalls roaming around to the different sorority houses leading up to squeal night.

Angus and David encourage undergraduate members to get involved in campus organizations in addition to DKE, stressing the importance of meeting people from other backgrounds. "Find time to work part time; it is valuable in your overall development," adds David.

Angus offers this advice to young alumni: "After graduation you are thrown out into that jungle. Just remember that very few people ever love their first job, but if you have discipline and character, pay attention to detail, and work hard things will work out—if not in that situation, in another."

In regard to the importance of his gift to the capital campaign, Angus explains, "I felt like I got so much out of being a DKE at the University of Alabama, and I would be remiss if I didn't help make that opportunity available to others."

Both men find loyalty and trustworthiness important in one's peers and agree that one should surround oneself with those who are better, providing the opportunity for mutual improvement.

In his spare time Angus enjoys golfing, hunting, and fishing. He has four children: Lisa, Angus III, Scott, and Claire Ellen.

David and his wife, Joanne, have three children: Ashleigh, Margaret, and David Jr. David gives to the campaign "to ensure future generations will have the same opportunities I was afforded by Deke during the '60s...I've always believed the Lord takes care of fools, children, and DKE pledges."
