PSI CHAPTER OF DELTA KAPPA EPSILON AT THE UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA ♦ SPRING 2006

Psi Chapter Success Attributed to Loyal Alumni and Strong ΔKE Traditions

“Without the foundation of success that you, our alumni, helped to build, Psi Chapter would not be nearly as successful, or competitive, as it is today.”

Psi Chapter began its tenure on The University of Alabama campus more than 150 years ago. It has since become a fixture at the University and within the Greek system. This legacy of success continues to provide a foundation on which our active Chapter can develop and excel. Our undergraduates have demonstrated a great commitment to ΔKE ideals and traditions and suggest a very positive future for our Chapter.

The House Corporation recognizes the strength of the active Chapter and hopes that our efforts will ensure a physical structure of the same quality. As many of you may have heard, the University is looking to expand the stadium and, as a result, has acquired much of the land on Old Row. In light of the expansion, Delta Kappa Epsilon must relocate. After working with the University for more than one year, ΔKE has acquired the Old Gorgas house and a portion of Beta’s current property for the site of our relocation. This is the last lot on Old Row, and we are quite pleased to retain such a prime location for the new Chapter House.

The House Corporation has made a commitment to keep the Chapter House on the cutting edge, considering both location and amenities. We continue to assess the needs of the house to ensure we are meeting the present and future needs of Psi Chapter.

In a salute to our Chapter and home, there will be a three-day alumni/actives celebration April 28-30. Our biennial Undertakers’ Ball will be April 29, complete with all of the celebration’s fanfare. I encourage you to come and reconnect with other alumni, as well as to take this opportunity to meet the outstanding young men who are carrying on the Psi Chapter tradition.

We hope you will continue to support the House Corporation’s efforts. Without the foundation of success that you, our alumni, helped to build, Psi Chapter would not be nearly as successful, or competitive, as it is today. I thank you for your support in ensuring that Delta Kappa Epsilon remains one of the premier fraternities on the Alabama campus.

In the bonds,

PLEDGE CLASS OF 1970 HOLDS 35TH REUNION

The entire pledge class of 1970 was present at their 35th reunion, which was held during Homecoming weekend, October 28-19, 2005.

The pledge class of 1970 held its 35th reunion on Homecoming weekend, October 28-29. The entire pledge class was in attendance for this two-day event. Even long-lost pledge brother Billy Odom '74, who had been hard to track down since graduation (due to continuous travel), came down for the event from Chicago, Illinois, with his wife.

A cocktail hour and banquet were held Friday evening at the North River Yacht Club. One of the many highlights of the night came from old 8 mm videotapes taken by Jimmy Wetter '74 of various ΔKE functions, including footage of brothers repelling down Denny Stadium. Many of the group made their way back to the Chapter House following the banquet for the Friday night band party.

The pledge class was in attendance for the Homecoming lunch and party prior to the game. During the pre-game events, Crawford Inge '74, thought to be the longest-ever initiate on record, finally received his ΔKE pin in a formal presentation where he met W.G. Following the festivities, the pledge class went to the football game where Alabama continued their undefeated streak.

Saturday night festivities were held at the Indian Hills Country Club. After the open bar and dinner, members of the class exchanged tall tales and fun memories. It was unanimously decided to have another reunion in five years, after everyone’s great weekend.

UNDERGRADUATE CHAPTER REPORT

Major Changes Taking Place Around Chapter House, Undergraduates Continue to Thrive on UA Campus

The dogwood tree in the front yard has been uprooted, and in its place sits a 16-ton crane. Workers assembled massive girders to be lifted into the Bryant-Denny Stadium expansion. Stadium Drive is closed off and part of our yard is fenced off. In spite of all these changes, one major positive sign can be seen from the ΔKE Chapter House. Over the holidays, Gorgas Hall, the former home of the UAPD, was razed and the lot is being cleared for the groundbreaking of what will be the new ΔKE house.

RECRUITMENT

We recently pledged the largest group of men to come through the ΔKE house in recent years, with 35 new brothers participating in Picture Night (in early September). After a long and arduous October, the new class was initiated November 10. Now, with more than 100 members and being the largest fraternity on campus, we are proud to be both leaders and trendsetters at the Capstone.

“Now, with more than 100 members and being the largest fraternity on campus, we are proud to be both leaders and trendsetters at the Capstone.”

PHILANTHROPIC EVENTS

In recent years, Delta Kappa Epsilon has been getting more involved in community service projects in Tuscaloosa. We sponsored two parties in conjunction with Hannah Home, a shelter for women and children. For Halloween, we hosted a carnival in the band room, with toys and prizes for the children, and for Christmas, one brother dressed as Santa Claus and delivered presents to the children in the living room.

LEADERSHIP

Many campus leaders are emerging from the ΔKE house. Twelve freshmen are serving on various SGA committees. Dan Ventress '08 and Harris Oppenheimer '07 serve as SGA senators. Justice Smyth '07 serves as vice president of Student Affairs and plans to make a bid for SGA president this spring.

SOCIAL

It has been an excellent social year at the Mansion on the Hill. We had two large recruitment weekends with both Friday night band parties and Saturday crawfish boils. Fall, of course, brought the football season, and with seven home games (including big match-ups against Florida, Arkansas, Tennessee, and LSU) the house was filled to the brim almost every weekend. There were also several swaps, most notably Agent Orange with the Tri Deltas, the KD Chicken-Drop swap, and the Halloween Swap with the Kappas. We plan on ending the school year, and our tenure in the current Chapter House, with the farewell Undertakers' Ball this April.

With this being the last semester in our landmark establishment, we are making the most of our remaining time. The current residents feel very privileged to be the last group of men to live in the hardwood rooms inhabited by many of our fathers and, in several cases, grandfathers.

ΔKE PROVIDED FRIENDSHIP, SENSE OF FAMILY FOR RANDY CLARK

Often times the transition from high school to college is challenging; the new environment, people, and routines can be overwhelming. C. Randall Clark '61 came to Tuscaloosa from Birmingham, Alabama, in 1957, expecting the move to be somewhat difficult. He recalled, “Sometimes you can get swallowed up at big colleges right out of high school.” Randy learned of Delta Kappa Epsilon through some of his high school friends and, after attending several recruitment events, found that the Fraternity was a good fit.

Randy's decision to join Delta Kappa Epsilon not only provided him with the opportunity to meet many other students, but helped scale down the size of the University. Randy formed many strong friendships with his pledge brothers and enjoyed meeting men from different backgrounds. He viewed the Fraternity as an extended family of sorts, and the Chapter House as a home on campus.

Although Randy does not make it back to the UA campus as often as he would like, he still maintains strong friendships with some of his Deke brothers. They enjoy attending thoroughbred horse races when they visit Randy in Kentucky and other non-structured events, when the Clarks visit friends in the Gulf area of Alabama.

Randy was a business major at Alabama and following graduation became the fourth generation in his family to work in coal mining and transportation. He serves as president of Transkentucky Transportation Railroad Inc., which moves trainloads of Kentucky coal to the Ohio River where it is shipped to electric utilities and other customers. His tenure with TTI began in 1984 as vice president of marketing, until he was promoted to president in 1997. Randy doesn't plan on retiring in the near future because he still enjoys the day-to-day challenges of his position.

Randy offers this advice to young alumni: “I would urge any young person to be selective in their career choices. You can spend a lifetime building a positive reputation for yourself, but it takes far less time to discredit your name.”

Randy and his wife, Jan, live in a lake house in Lancaster, Kentucky. They have two grown children, Rob and Betsy, who both graduated from The University of Alabama. Rob works as an administrator for St. Jude Children's Hospital and resides with his family in Memphis, Tennessee. Betsy works in real estate and lives with her family in Louisville, Kentucky. The Clarks enjoy traveling, playing with their four grandchildren, and try to spend as much time appreciating “lake life” as possible. Reach Randy via e-mail at clarkonthelake@alltel.net or during lake season on his dock at Lullwater Landing, the Clarks' home on Herrington Lake.

ΔKE Ideals Guide Sam Adams, Both Personally and Professionally

When Samuel Adams '79 came to The University of Alabama in 1975, he was interested in what the fraternity experience had to offer. Delta Kappa Epsilon quickly caught his attention. Sam feels “the people in the Fraternity represented the best group of men on campus.” He appreciates every aspect of his Deke experience from bonding with his pledge brothers to participating in intramural sports. He is especially fond of the mystic order of the Fraternity and the secrecy of ΔKE traditions and rituals.

Sam served as the editor of the University yearbook as an undergraduate and graduated from Alabama with a degree in English. Following graduation, Sam attended law school and later served in the military—two years as a JAG officer and 12 years as a reserve officer. Sam served as a circuit judge in southern Alabama and is now the president of the Adams Life Insurance Company and manager of Adams Limited Properties LLC.

Sam Adams (left) climbed Mt. Kilimanjaro in September 2005 to raise money for victims of Hurricane Katrina. He and the other members of his group raised more than $5,000!

He advises young Dekes who are just entering the workforce to exercise the principles of ΔKE in their professional careers. He believes the slogan “in the bond” is applicable in the real world and thinks “it is important for people to work together.”

Through the years, Sam has stayed in contact with his Fraternity brothers. He truly appreciates the efforts of Gary Garstecki '79 and John McNeil '79, as well as the other men on the House Corporation, for their work in preserving the ΔKE legacy at UA. Sam hopes to see more participation from alumni with the relocation of Psi Chapter in 2006.

Sam and his wife, Mary, have been happily married for more than 20 years. They have four beautiful children (three daughters and one son). The Adams family resides in Montgomery, Alabama, but makes it back to Tuscaloosa for Crimson Tide football games. Sam serves as the chairman of deacons for the Trinity Presbyterian Church and on the Board of Wachovia Bank in Montgomery. When not working or serving the Montgomery community, Sam enjoys traveling. In September 2005, he and several colleagues climbed Mt. Kilimanjaro (19,340 feet) to raise money for Hurricane Katrina victims. You can contact Sam at alico500@aol.com.

FINAL SALUTE TO THE MANSION ON THE HILL

As a fitting, final salute to the Mansion on the Hill, there will be an Alumni/actives celebration on the weekend of April 28-30. Friday's festivities will include a golf tournament during the day, followed by a Psi Day Banquet on Friday night. The celebration will continue on Saturday with our annual Undertakers' Ball, complete with a mule-drawn procession, superb music, and all of the appropriate fanfare necessary for the final party at our historic mansion.

Several classes are planning reunions for this weekend, when Dekes of all ages will join together for this once-in-a-lifetime celebration. Please put these dates on your calendar and book your rooms NOW. If you haven't been to the house recently, this is your last chance to rekindle fond memories and come together with old friends at the mansion. This will, without a doubt, be one of the largest assemblies and celebrations of Psi Dekes in history.

The mule-drawn procession through Sorority Row is one aspect that makes each Undertakers' Ball so memorable.
